1.0 Introduction

The University of Connecticut, Document Production Center (DPC), located in Storrs, Connecticut is seeking proposals from qualified and experienced vendors to provide paper stock for printing for delivery to the Storrs campus. The initial period of award will be from the date of award through June 30, 2020. See Section 3.0 Scope of Work for detailed specifications.

Vendors interested in providing the required goods must provide pricing within the market basket included as Attachment A (Market Basket) and in Section 9.0, Pricing. A copy of their company's catalog with current prices must be included per the requirements outlined in Section 9.0. Vendor should also submit the percent (%) discount off list prices, based on the specifications, terms and conditions herein. Discount and other price information must appear on the response to Section 9.0 to be considered a responsive and compliant bidder.

In soliciting proposals, it is the University's intent to establish multiple sources for providing these goods and services. The University shall reserve the right to place purchase orders in any manner deemed by the University to be in its own best interest. Blanket purchase order(s) will be utilized with releases via telephone, facsimile or e-mail by authorized individuals who will be identified within said blanket orders. The University reserves the right, as the need arises and at its sole discretion, to negotiate with vendors to establish contracts in addition to those awarded pursuant to this Request for Proposal (RFP).

1.1 Expenditure History

Because the volume of paper stock for printing cannot be pre-determined, any contract resulting from this Request for Proposal will not guarantee a specific amount of business, income or revenue.

The value of the paper purchased for printing during fiscal year 2019 was approximately $70,640.00. The market basket represents a combination of orders, paper sizes, and brands ordered for the fiscal years 2018 and 2019. UConn, as a condition of this proposal and resulting contract(s), will not commit to annual quantities and/or guarantees of revenue.

Any contracts resulting from this RFP may also be used by the regional campuses of the University, the University of Connecticut Health Center and also may be extended to Connecticut Colleges Purchasing Group (CCPG) members based on Respondent approval. Please see Section 9.0 and 10.0 for additional information related to CCPG.

1.2 Method of Award

Each proposal will be evaluated by a committee. The University will evaluate all proposals and select the firm(s) based on the following criteria:

1.2.1 Mill representation;

1.2.2 Pricing; and

1.2.3 References.

Detailed evaluation criteria and respective weights can be found in Section 4.9 - Proposal Selection Evaluation Criteria.

- 1.3 Term: The initial term of any contract resulting from this RFP will be from date of award through June 30, 2020, with four (4) potential one-year extensions, or parts thereof. Said option(s) will only be exercised upon satisfactory performance and by mutual consent of both parties to any contract resulting from this RFP. Such intent to renew shall be conveyed to the vendor sixty (60) days prior to the effective date.

- 6.12 Incorporation of Proposal: Proposals submitted in response to this RFP may, at the University's option, be incorporated into the executed contract.
- 6.13 "NO SUBSTITUTE": Unless qualified by the provision "NO SUBSTITUTE", the use of the name of a manufacturer, brand, make or catalog designation in specifying an item does not restrict proposers to the manufacturer, brand, make or catalog designation identification. This is used simply to indicate the character, quality and/or performance equivalence of the commodity desired, but the commodity on which proposals are submitted must be of the same or better character, quality and/or performance equivalence that it will serve the purpose for which it is to be used equally as well as that specified. In submitting a proposal on a commodity other than as specified, proposer shall furnish complete data and identification with respect to the alternate commodity bidder proposes to furnish. Consideration will be given to proposals submitted on alternate commodities to the extent that such action is deemed to serve best the interests of the State. If the proposer does not indicate that the commodity he/she proposes to furnish is other than specified, it will be construed to mean that the proposer proposes to furnish the exact commodity described. Any substitutions must meet or exceed all specification requirements and must receive approval in writing from the appropriate party at the University prior to any order being filled.

6.14.1 The quality of accepted samples does not supersede the specifications for quality in the RFP unless the sample is superior in quality and is identified as an alternative to the product/service requested. All deliveries shall have at least the same quality as the accepted sample.

6.14.2 Samples shall be furnished free of charge. Proposer must indicate if return of any sample is desired. The University shall comply with such request provided samples are returned at Proposer's sole cost and expense, FOB Proposer's destination, and that they have not been made useless by testing. If they are made useless by testing, the State may dispose of the samples as it deems to be appropriate. Samples may be held for comparison with deliveries.

6.15 Proposal Preparation: The University will assume no cost for proposal preparation and/or submission. All costs will be borne at Proposer's expense.

6.16 Confidential Information: The University treats Proposals as confidential until after the award is issued. At that time they become subject to disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act. If a Proposer wishes to supply any information, which it believes is exempt from disclosure under the Act, said Proposer should summarize such information in a separate envelope and each page submitted should clearly state "Confidential," but otherwise be presented in the same manner as the Proposal. However, any such information is provided entirely at the Proposer's own risk and the University assumes no liability for any loss or damage which may result from the University's disclosure at any time of any information provided by the Proposer in connection with its proposal.

6.17 Freedom of Information: While the University may be willing to agree not to disclose the information proactively, the University is subject to the Connecticut Freedom of Information Act, found in Chapter 14 of the Connecticut General Statutes, which may require disclosure, should the document be requested with limited exceptions. Two such exceptions that might apply are as follows: (1) Conn. Gen. Stat. sec. 1-210(b)(24) permits the University to withhold records related to the procurement process while bidding and contract negotiations are underway (this moratorium is temporary and lasts only until the contract has been executed or negotiations are abandoned); and Conn. Gen. Stat. sec. 1-210(b)(5) permits the University to withhold records in its possession in the event they contain trade secrets (or really any intellectual property). In the event that the University determines that Conn. Gen. Stat. sec. 1-210(b)(5) may apply to a given request for the records in question, the responsibility to substantiate claims that said would reveal trade secrets and meet the exemption requirements would need to be borne by the owner of said trade secrets, not the University. Further, if the entity seeking access to the documents challenges the University's withholding of the document, said owner may be required to prove at the Freedom of Information Commission and/or in a Court of Law, that the release of said trade secrets would be harmful to the owner of the intellectual property or properties in question.

- 6.18 Conflict of Interest: The Proposer shall disclose and identify to the University, with its proposal, any relationships, which may constitute a potential conflict of interest with the University of Connecticut Purchasing Department, or any other University organizations or departments for the purpose of determining whether a conflict of interest exists. All such disclosures require acceptance/approval action on the part of the University, who shall determine, in its sole discretion, whether an impermissible conflict exists.
- 6.19 Ethics and Compliance Reporting/Whistleblower Protection: The Office of University Compliance is responsible for handling anonymous ethics and compliance reporting. 7.37.1 The University treats Proposals as confidential until after the award is issued. At that time they become subject to disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act. If a Respondent wishes to supply any information, which it believes is exempt from disclosure under the Act, said Respondent should summarize such information in a separate envelope and each page submitted should clearly state "Confidential," but otherwise be presented in the same manner as the Proposal. However, any such information is provided entirely at the Respondent's own risk and the University assumes no liability for any loss or damage which may result from the University's disclosure at any time of any information provided by the Respondent in connection with its proposal.

A sample confidentiality agreement is included (see attachments) merely for illustrative purposes, and should not be considered the standard confidentiality agreement due to the varying needs for each project.

7.39 Freedom of Information: While the University may be willing to agree not to disclose the information proactively, the University is subject to the Connecticut Freedom of Information Act, found in Chapter 14 of the Connecticut General Statutes, which may require disclosure, should the document be requested with limited exceptions. Two such exceptions that might apply are as follows: (1) Conn. Gen. Stat. sec. 1-210(b)(24) permits the University to withhold records related to the procurement process while bidding and contract negotiations are underway (this moratorium is temporary and lasts only until the contract has been executed or negotiations are abandoned); and Conn. Gen. Stat. sec. 1-210(b)(5) permits the University to withhold records in its possession in the event they contain trade secrets (or really any intellectual property). In the event that the University determines that Conn. Gen. Stat. sec. 1-210(b)(5) may apply to a given request for the records in question, the responsibility to substantiate claims that said would reveal trade secrets and meet the exemption requirements would need to be borne by the owner of said trade secrets, not the University. Further, if the entity seeking access to the documents challenges the University's withholding of the document, said owner may be required to prove at the Freedom of Information Commission and/or in a Court of Law, that the release of said trade secrets would be harmful to the owner of the intellectual property or properties in question.

M. JODI RELL
GOVERNOR

STATE OF CONNECTICUT
EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

MEMORANDUM

To: Vendors Conducting Business with the State of Connecticut
From: M. Jodi Rell, Governor
Subject: State Ethics Policy
Date: September 28, 2004

As you are undoubtedly aware, state government is striving to improve how it conducts its business. The task force charged with analyzing the state contracting process recently recommended to me several areas which require improvement. I expect to implement a number of those recommendations. Your assistance is needed in order to facilitate change.

While the state ethics code does not prohibit gifts to state employees altogether—for example, the law permits employees to accept a gift in celebration of a major life event and up to $50 per calendar year in food and beverage—the intent of the code is clear. State employees should not just avoid impropriety, but even the mere appearance of impropriety, and should forego accepting gifts from those with whom the state does business.

I would also call your attention to section 1-84(m) of the Connecticut General Statutes, which prohibits state employees from accepting gifts from those who do business, or seek to do business, with the employee's agency or department. Vendors and prospective vendors are also prohibited from knowingly giving gifts to state employees in violation of this section.

My request to you is this, no matter how well-intentioned or appreciative you may be of an employee's assistance, I would ask that you refrain from offering a state employee a gift of any kind, including, but not limited to, meals and beverages. Offering a gift to an employee puts the employee in the rather uncomfortable position of having to decline the gift or ascertain its monetary value and consult with an attorney and/or the state Ethics Commission.

I expect—and indeed the residents of this state deserve—state government employees to adhere to the highest ethical standards, which may entail more stringent practices than even the ethics code provides. With your assistance, the state should be well on its way to restoring the public's faith in state government.

I would appreciate it if you would communicate this message to your employees. Thank you for your cooperation and understanding.
